DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed on 02/02/2011 have been fully considered and found persuasive. Applicant's remark about the Hosein reference improper citation has been acknowledged and the rejection removed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

1. Claims 13, 15, and 17-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Independent claim 13 claim(s) a storage medium not defined by the specifications, which, broadly interpreted, may include both non-transitory and transitory storage media, e.g., volatile memory, EPROM, a carrier wave and/or a modulated data signal, which do not fall under statutory subject matter. Therefore, claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101, because a claim that may cover both statutory and non-statutory embodiments (under the broadest reasonable interpretation of the claim when read in light of the specification and in view of one skilled in the art), may embrace subject matter that is not eligible for patent protection and therefore is directed to non-statutory subject matter. See the OG Notice titled "Subject Matter Eligibility of Computer Readable Media".

Claims 15 and 19-19 are also rejected by virtue of their dependency on claim 13.

An amendment to these claims adding --non-transitory-- before "storage medium" would overcome this rejection.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-10, 12, and 20-29 are pending for allowance.

Further prior art search did not yield references that either alone or combined disclose the details in each limitation of independent claims 1, 10, 20, 21, and 26.
